

Maximilian Marcoll was born in Lübeck/Germany in 1981. At the academy of music in Lübeck he studied percussion from 1992 – 97 and composition from 1997 to 2001 with F.Döhl and D.Reith. From 2001 to 2006 he studied composition in Essen with T.Neuhaus and G.Steinke (analysis with N.A.Huber and G.Steinke). Masterclasses with L.Berio et al. 1999 he founded the ensemble for contemporary music in Lübeck and was its leader until 2001. In 2002 Marcoll started to do laptop improvisation performances and to develop software. He got a folkwang promotion reward in 2005 and the Franz-Liszt-Promotion Reward, Weimar 2006. Since 2007 he teaches at the Institute for Music and Media of the Robert Schumann Hochschule in Düsseldorf and at the Musikschule Friedrichshain-Kreuzberg. Maximilian Marcoll lives in Berlin.